

FESBC Operations Manager

The Candidate

You are an experienced natural resource management professional with a flair for working with others. Your operational background includes managing forest management activities at a program level (harvesting, silviculture, planning, wildfire or the like). You also have expert knowledge in one or more areas of wildfire planning, silviculture, terrestrial wildlife habitat, forest fibre utilization, or forest carbon. You are passionate about enhancing forests to achieve environmental, economic and social benefits. Proof of complete Covid-19 vaccination is required for this position.

The Context

The Forest Enhancement Society of BC (FESBC) is a semi-autonomous agency of the BC government. The purposes of the Society are:

- (a) to advance environmental and resource stewardship of British Columbia's forests by:
 - (i) preventing and mitigating the impact of wildfires;
 - (ii) improving damaged or low value forests;
 - (iii) improving habitat for wildlife;
 - (iv) supporting the use of fibre from damaged and low value forests; and
 - (v) treating forests to improve the management of greenhouse gases; and
- (b) to advocate for the environmental and resource stewardship of British Columbia's forests.

FESBC is seeking an Operations Manager who will assist the Society deliver cost-effective and impactful programs to improve BC communities' resilience to wildfire, forest conditions, wildlife habitat, fibre utilization, and management of forest carbon.

The Responsibilities

Reporting to the Executive Director (ED) or designate, the Operations Manager is responsible for:

- Program Operations and Delivery;
- Government and Stakeholder Relations;
- Annual Operating Plans; and
- Contract and Financial Management.

Career Opportunity – Operations Manager Forest Enhancement Society of BC

The Qualifications and Experience Required

The ideal candidate for this position will likely have experience inside and outside government and a proven track record of delivering cost-effective and efficient operational programs in a natural resource setting.

The successful candidate must also have:

- A degree or diploma in natural resource management or related studies, registered member the ABCFP and a minimum of seven years of experience in resource management or an equivalent combination;
- Experience developing annual operating plans, operational procedures and practices;
- Experience in a program management capacity;
- Experience leading and coaching diverse teams;
- Experience in contract and financial management;
- Demonstrated experience in stakeholder engagement and relationship building across many sectors, including: provincial government agencies, local and First Nations governments, industry, and non-governmental organizations.
- Preferably expert knowledge in one or more areas of wildfire planning, silviculture, terrestrial wildlife habitat, forest fibre utilization, forest carbon.

The Terms of Employment

Compensation for this position will be competitive with BC public sector salary levels. For interested BC provincial government employees, a secondment opportunity may be considered.

Regular travel within BC to meet with government agencies and stakeholders will be expected. The successful candidate will be based primarily in the FESBC office in Kamloops in combination with a home office elsewhere. Proof of complete Covid-19 vaccination is required for this position.

The Application Process

You will email a detailed resume to the FESBC Office at: office@fesbc.ca accompanied by a cover letter explaining your interest in the position and highlighting your suitability.

Applications are welcome until the position is filled, however current applications will be reviewed on Thursday, April 14th 2022. Only those applicants invited for interviews will receive notification from the hiring panel.

Job Description for the Operations Manager of the Forest Enhancement Society of BC

Scope

Reporting to the Executive Director (ED), the Operations Manager (Ops Manager) contributes to the strategic vision and planning, and provides operational leadership that will help ensure that the Forest Enhancement Society of BC (FESBC), a not-for-profit organization registered under the Societies Act, achieves its objectives in a way that is cost effective and provides measurable benefits to British Columbia's forests for the benefit of all British Columbians.

The Ops Manager has a wide range of responsibilities and accountabilities that contribute to the overall achievement of the FESBC objectives. The Ops Manager ensures efficient and effective operations for FESBC and interacts with external stakeholders, particularly from the Ministry of Forests, Lands, Natural Resource Operations and Rural Development (FLNRORD) and third-party delivery agents. Utilizing strategic and technical skills, the Ops Manager has responsibility for providing operational leadership through performance-based management principles.

This position requires a high level of understanding of and sensitivity to environmental, forest industry, First Nations and public policy issues relating to forest practices in BC. The Ops Manager ensures operations meet sound forest practice standards and builds productive relationships to the benefit of the FESBC.

Providing vision, energy and commitment to FESBC, the Ops Manager will help grow FESBC's resources to advance the environmental and resource stewardship of British Columbia's forests.

Responsibilities

To the ED and the FESBC Board of Directors:

The Ops Manager is responsible for ensuring that the ED and the Board of Directors have all the information necessary to properly exercise their responsibilities. He or she reports to the ED on a timely basis relating relevant information regarding FESBC operations, and develops and presents alternatives, and recommends courses of action for ED consideration.

Operational and Strategic Planning:

The Ops Manager is the key link with the operational partners and third-party delivery agents in getting project activities carried out on the ground. The Ops Manager will provide guidance on; project priority setting, the development of quality project submissions and ensure a smooth funding delivery and tracking mechanism is in-place.

Career Opportunity – Operations Manager Forest Enhancement Society of BC

Working together with colleagues in the FESBC organization, the Ops Manager is responsible for inputting into the 'rolling' FESBC Annual Operating Plan and recommending its approval to the ED and Board of Directors. The Ops Manager will assist the ED in developing the FESBC Strategic Plan that will identify issues that must be addressed in order to realize the FESBC future vision, and set short, medium and long-term objectives and strategies. The Ops Manager will assist in the preparation of the FESBC Business Plan, and annual operating and capital expenditure budgets for the ED to submit to the Board of Directors for approval.

Community and Stakeholder Relations:

The Ops Manager is responsible for supporting the ED in establishing and maintaining positive and productive relationships with industry representatives, funding recipients, FLNRORD, other provincial government agencies, First Nations and local governments. In this capacity, the Ops Manager promotes collaborative cooperation towards advancing the objectives of FESBC. The Ops Manager is expected to exercise judgment on when to elevate issues to the ED and/or exercise influence and persuasion in the face of divergent objectives and may be called upon to manage the implications of decisions.

Corporate Responsibilities:

The Ops Manager executes his or her authority and delegated responsibilities and works to meet their annual performance plan goals. The Ops Manager ensures adherence to operating policies, systems and practices that meet government-wide standards in order for FESBC to achieve its objectives while maintaining accountability to the taxpayers of BC. This includes responsibility to ensure legal and contractual reporting responsibilities are met and providing related information and data as required.

Financial Management:

The Ops Manager contributes to the development of the annual budget in support of the FESBC Strategic and Annual Operating Plans that is prepared by the ED for recommendation to the Board of Directors. Under the guidance of the ED, the Ops Manager ensures the efficient utilization of financial resources within established fiscal policies of FESBC, making appropriate, defensible and timely financial and management decisions.

Project Funding:

The Ops Manager will identify additional sources of funding for projects and programs that will advance the objectives of FESBC as they may arise. The Ops Manager will look for ways to leverage existing dollars to achieve additional results on the land-base.

Career Opportunity – Operations Manager Forest Enhancement Society of BC

Operations:

The Ops Manager identifies opportunities and proposes new methods for improving existing operations with a focus on delivering cost effective projects that advance the objectives of FESBC.

Business and Economic Environment:

The Ops Manager keeps abreast of the environmental, business and economic climate in which FESBC and its stakeholders and the province operate. The Ops Manager supports the ED and the Board of Directors in meeting the challenges presented by new trends and developments.

Communications:

The Ops Manager ensures the effective communication of FESBC strategies, objectives, and results to create a positive profile for FESBC. The Ops Manager develops and maintains positive and productive relationships with stakeholders and assists the ED in the preparation of the FESBC Annual Report.